On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have some one that knows something about this bill explain it to the House.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, it is with some reluctance that I say anything concerning this measure because a relative of mine is personally interested in the property, but I assure you that the bill is absolutely all right. It leaves the question of purchase, or the value of the property to a board of five viewers, to be appointed by the Governor. and this property can only be purchased for the amount determined on by the viewers and for what they say it is worth. If they say it is only worth ten thousand then only that amount can be paid for it. If they say it is worth twenty-five thousand, then only that amount can be paid for it.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I wish to interrogate the gentleman from York.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I wish the gentleman from York would advise the House as to the amount of the assessed valuation of this property.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman understood the question of the assessment in the city of York, he would know that the assessed valuation is no criterion as to the value of the property. Property that is worth one hundred thousand dollars has been assessed there for years at twenty thousand dollars. I would say further that this property has three large buildings upon it and at least forty thousand dollars has been spent in improvements.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I wish to further interrogate the gentleman from York.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker. I will.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire from the gentleman as to whether or not I am correct when I say that the property is assessed at twelve thousand dollars?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I think that is right.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if this bill does not carry with it an appropriation of eighty-five thousand dollars.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is correct, but the purchase price is not fixed at any figure. It is discretionary with and left entirely with the Board of Viewers.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker. I would like to ask the gentleman if the Board of Charities has approved of this proposition.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I am unable to give that information.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I regret the necessity of taking exception to this bill, but I do not think it is fair to this House to ask it to vote on a question of this kind.

If the gentlemen will examine this bill they will see that it specifies a particular property to be purchased and it carries an appropriation of eighty-five thousand dollars for that purpose. This House has no knowledge insofar as I am able to ascertain as to the advisability of the purchase of this particular property for the purposes set forth in the bill. I think it is unwise to pass a bill of this character in view of the low assessment on this property and the large appropriation which this bill carries and it has not been sanctioned by the Board of Charities.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. GEISER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1219 (Senate Bill No. 113), entitled:

An Act further supplementing an act approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven entitled "An Act providing for the erection by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of a statue in memory of General George Gordon Meade in the city of Washington and making an appropriation therefor" and making a further appropriation

Whereas Under acts approved June fourteen one thousand nine hundred and eleven and May two one thousand nine hundred and thirteen the Legislature of Pennsylvania appropriated the sum of thirty thousand dollars for the erection of a statue or memorial to the memory of [illegible]rge Gordon Meade a former citizen of Pennsylvania who commanded the army of the Potomac from Gettysburg to Appomattox with an unbroken line of Union victories and

Whereas Since that amount was appropriated (evidently intended simply for an equestrian statue of General Meade upon an isolated location somewhere in the nation's capitol) the Commission of Fine Arts of Washington District of Columbia has officially designated as a site for the proposed statue or memorial a location within the lines of the Botanic Garden and approximately within two hundred feet of the monument now being erected to the memory of General U. S. Grant costing two hundred and fifty thousand dollars and

Whereas The amount thus appropriated being wholly inadequate for the erection of a statue or memorial to General Meade upon the site designated by the Commission of Fine Arts of Washington District of Columbia and commensurate with his services to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the Nation therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the further sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated for the following purposes namely

For the purpose of securing a site for the location of the proposed statue or memorial of General George Gordon Meade provided for in the act to which this is a supplement and for the purpose of constructing the necessary foundation and pedestal and in securing appropriate tablets and designs therefor and for the erection and completion of said statue or memorial

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1809 (Senate No. 1533), entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine section four of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania authorizing the State to issue bonds to the amount of fifty millions of dollars for the improvement of the highways of the Commonwealth

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. KUHN. Mr. Speaker, I don't want to be considered as being anyway against any of these propositions but I do think that after just passing through a campaign as we have during the past few years the time is not ripe to place upon the people another bond issue of the magnitude that is proposed by this bill. I fell, sir, that the great expense that this State went to in the advertising of the printing and the efforts they made to carry this issue should not at this time be repeated. I move that the bill be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I don't think we should strike this bill from the calendar.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

BILL POSTPONED.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that furtheer consideration of this bill be postponed.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. The ayes appear to have it,

Whereupon, a division was called for, 82 gentlemen voting in the affirmative and 24 in the negative.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I desire to say in explanation of this bill that this is one of the two bills prepared by the Commission appointed at the last session for examining into and codifying the insurance laws of the State. It brings the law regarding fire insurance somewhat in accord with the law in New York, which has worked very well, and also in New Jersey. The bills are prepared entirely in the interest of the policy holder and premium payer. The same system has worked very well in New York and it resulted in the reduction of premiums there in the four years in which it has been in effect. The bills have been prepared with great care and have been amended within the last few days to meet the objections of the mutual companies and the smaller companies which objected to the plan at first. I think it is an entirely good measure and I hope t... it will pass.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Whereas, Certain joint resolutions proposing amendments to the Constitution of this Commonwealth have been passed at two consecutive sessions of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, a majority of the members elected to each House having agreed thereto, namely, the sessions of one thousand nine hundred thirteen and one thousand nine hundred fifteen, which proposed amendments respectively read as follows:

"Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth (XVIII) article thereof

AMENDMENT.

Laws may be passed providing for a system of registering, transferring, insuring of and guaranteeing land titles by the State or by the counties thereof and for settling and determining adverse or other claims to and interests in lands the titles to which are so registered, transferred, insured and guaranteed and for the creation and collection of indemnity funds and for carrying the system and powers hereby provided for into effect by such existing courts as may be designated by the Legislature and by the establishment of such new courts as may be deemed necessary. In matters arising in and under the operation of such system judicial powers with right of appeal may be conferred by the Legislature upon county recorders and upon other officers by it designated. Such laws may provide for continuing the registering, transferring, insuring and guaranteeing such titles after the first or original registration has been perfected by the court and provision may be made for raising the necessary funds for expenses and salaries of officers which shall be paid out of the treasury of the several counties."

"Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met: That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof.

Amend section eight, article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:

'Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law, but any city the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of such assessed valuation may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum in the aggregate at any one time upon such valuation except that any debt or debts hereinafter incurred by the city and county of Philadelphia for the construction and development of subways for transit purposes or for the construction of wharves and docks or the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of a system of wharves and docks as public improvements owned or to be owned by said city and county of Philadelphia, and which shall yield to the city and county of Philadelphia current net revenue in excess of the interest on said debt or debts and of the annual installments necessary for the cancellation of said debt or debts may be excluded in ascertaining the power of the city and county of Philadelphia to become otherwise indebted; Provided, That a sinking-fund for their cancellation shall be established and maintained,' so that it shall read as follows:

Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district or other municipality or incorporated district except as herein provided shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law, but any city the debt of which on the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four exceeded seven per centum of such assessed valuation and has not since been reduced to less than such per centum may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum in the aggregate at any one time upon such valuation. The city of Philadelphia upon the condition hereinafter set forth may increase its indebtedness to the extent of three per centum in excess of seven per centum upon such assessed valuation for the specific purpose of providing for all or any of the following purposes—to wit: For the construction and improvement of subways, tunnels, railways, elevated railways and other transit facilities for the construction and imporvement of wharves and docks and for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves and docks owned or to be owned by said city. Such increase however shall only be made with the assent of the electors thereof at a public election to be held in such manner as shall be provided by law. In ascertaining the borrowing capacity of said city of Philadelphia at any time there shall be excluded from the calculation a credit where the work resulting from any previous expenditure for any one or more of the specific purposes hereinabove enumerated shall be yielding to said city an annual current net revenue the amount of which credit shall be ascertained by capitalizing the annual net revenue during the year immediately preceding the time of such ascertainment. Such capitalization shall be accomplished by ascertaining the principal amount which would yield such annual current net revenue at the average rate of interest and sinking-fund charges payable upon the indebtedness incurred by said city for such purposes up to the time of such ascertainment. The method of determining such amount so to be excluded or allowed as a credit may be prescribed by the General Assembly.

In incurring idebtedness for any one or more of said purposes of construction, improvement or reclamation the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty years from the date thereof with provision for a sinking-fund sufficient to retire said obligation at maturity the payments to such sinking-fund to be equal or graded annual installments. Such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for and may include the amount of the interest and sinking-fund charges accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the period of construction and until the expiration of one year after the completion of the work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred and said city shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking-fund charges as required by section ten of article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania until the expiration of said period of one year after the completion of such work."

"Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof.

That section one of article eight which reads as follows:

'Section 1. Every male citizen twenty-one years of age possessing the following qualifications shall be entitled to vote at all elections subject however to such laws requiring and regulating the registration of electors as the General Assembly may enact.

'First. He shall have been a citizen of the United States at least one month.

Fourth. If twenty-two years of age and upwards he shall have paid within two years a State or county tax which shall have been assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before the election," be amended so that the same shall read as follows:

Section 1. Every citizen male or female of twenty-one years of age possessing the following qualifications shall be entitled to vote at all elections subject however to such laws requiring and regulating the registration of electors as the General Assembly may enact.

First. He or she shall have been a citizen of the United States at least one month.

Second. He or she shall have resided in the State one year (or having previously been a qualified elector or native-born citizen of the State he or she shall have removed therefrom and returned then six months) immediately preceding the election.

Fourth. If twenty-two years of age and upwards he or she shall have paid within two years a State or county tax which shall have been assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before the election.

Fifth. Wherever the words "he" "his" "him" and "himself" occur in any section of Article VIII of this Constitution the same shall be construed as if written respectively "he or she" "his or her" "him or her" and "himself or herself."

Whereas, It is provided in article eighteen of the Constitution of this Commonwealth that any amendment so agreed upon shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State, in such manner and at such time, at least three months after being so agreed and at such time, at least three months after being so agreed to by the two Houses, as the General Assembly shall prescribe, such submission to be in such manner and form that the people may vote for or against such amendments; therefore—

Be It Resolved (if the Senate concur), That for the purpose of ascertaining the sense of the people of this Commonwealth in regard to the adoption or rejection of certain proposed amendments to the Constitution of this Commonwealth; namely: to Section eight or Article nine

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1558 (House No. 1469), entitled:

An Act to amend section two thousand two hundred and twenty-nine of an act approved the eighteenth day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenues and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith"

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PATTON. Mr. President, this bill is a bill which changes radically the question of the appointment,—not of the appointment. but of the promotion or transfers of teachers in the public schools in the City of Philadelphia. It purports to make an eligible list so that the principal of a school cannot have promoted a teacher who is competent to be promoted to teach in a higher grade. It adds the words "promoted or transferred" simply to the code as it exists to-day. The plan of promoting or transferring teachers in the City of Philadelphia is by the principal of the school picking out the lady who is the most competent to be promoted from the lower grade to the grammar schools. Now, when I say to you that every teacher in the City of Philadelphia is opposed to this bill and has protested against it, I will not be contradicted by any Senator from Philadelphia. I personally have received numbers of communications from them and I desire to read a telegram which I received only yesterday: "Please inform the Senate that on Friday, May 14, a council composed of a representative from every school in Philadelphia, unanimously protested against the passage of House Bill 1469." Now, I think it but fair to place this matter before the Senate. I shall vote against the bill and I will positively say that if the Senators from Philadelphia have seen or heard from the teachers they will not vote for the bill.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, as much as I hate to disagree with Senator Patton, from Philadelphia, I want to state for the information of the Senate that this bill is a civil service bill for our teachers in Philadelphia. In other words, they take the teachers from an eligible list. Recently there was a teacher, No. 87, taken and put ahead of all the others. Just think of that! Teacher No. 87 on the list was taken and appointed in prefence to the 86 who had a prior claim on the place. This bill was drawn by Governor Brumbaugh, who has had more experience with school teachers probably than any other man in this State, surely more than any other man in this State, and probably more than any other man in these United States, and it is at the Governor's request that I call up this bill to-night. This is the first time in my life that I have supported a civil service bill and I do so at the urgent request of the Governor, so that it will prevent anybody in the future from going away down on the list to number 87 and excluding the 86 girls on the list who are ahead of the one who has been selected. The man who selected this girl No. 87 is a friend of my friend Senator Patton and I do not wonder that he stands here and wants to uphold that condition, but the Governor, does not want that to be done and I think that with all the experience he has had with school teachers, it would be a sensible thing if the Senate would take his judgment in this case. I would, therefore, like the Senate, as a favor to the Governor, to pass this bill.

Mr. PATTON. Mr. President, my friend, the Senator from Philadelphia has expressed just exactly what I supposed it was, in other words, it is a courtesy of the Senate to the Governor. There is no justice in the bill. It is not a question of civil service at all. The teachers of Philadelphia are appointed from a civil service list, and that civil service list is composed of the girls who graduated from the Normal School. Understand that distinctly, that the teachers from Philadelphia come from the Normal School, and only those who take a civil service examination on the outside can get in on that list. Now, do not mistake the civil service part of it is simply this, that the teachers are appointed from that list. That is the civil service list, and when there come transfers or promotions it has been done by the Superintendent of the Schools recommending to the Associate Superintendent. I am sure I am utterly guiltless of any knowledge as to who the gentlemen is that my friend, Senator Vare, from Philadelphia speaks of when he says he is my friend. I do not know to whom he alludes and I do not know anything about the girl coming from 87 to the top of the list, and if the school code is obeyed by the Board of Education of the City of Philadelphia they could not come except from the first three, and if they are once appointed and become teachers in the public schools then the transfers are made by merit, the best girl according to her ability to teach is given the place. Now, I do not want to make any fight out of this bill. I simply feel that it is absolutely wrong to pass it. I was going to say that I could almost quote the superintendent of the public schools of the City of Philadelphia, for I have talked to him on the subject. I have not talked to one single member of the Board of Education but what is opposed to this bill. The Senators, of course, can do what they want to, and be courteous to the Governor and I would like to be and have been courteous.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Patton.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Patton, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PATTON. Mr. President, certainly.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, if the provisions in this bill specify that the teachers shall be taken from the top of each list?

Mr. PATTON. Mr. President, I will read what the bill says: The bill simply placts the word "promoted or transferred" in the bill: "Except as superintendent of schools, associate superintendent, assistant district superintendent, director of a special branch or as principal of a high school, normal school or manuel training school"—this is the old code—"no person shall be appointed to any educational position" this adds the words "promoted or transferred." No person shall be appointed promoted or transferred, except from the eligible list. In other words a teacher who is already teaching in the public schools if he desires to be promoted, must keep herself on the eligible list all the time, and as you gentlemen know, very often those who are the best up in the question of book knowledge are not good teachers. The present way is that the principal promotes.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, Senator Patton has probably explained better than I can. This bill provides, if it passes and becomes an act, the teachers will be selected in rotation, commencing with No. 1, and no principal of that Board of Education will be allowed to go away up to number 87 and select a girl against the 86 who hold a place on that list. I will say further that I have positive knowledge that his friend selected girl 87 and discredited the 86 that had a prior right to that place, and that is what brought about the drawing and presenting of this bill.

Mr. PATTON. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia what sort of a place it was that this young lady No. 87 was given, was it a promotion, or was it an appointment?

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, a promotion or appointment to another place.

Mr. PATTON. Mr. President, they are simply appointed in the public schools from an eligible list although they are promoted according to their qualifications.

Mr. VARE. That they took a girl who was behind the other 86 and gave her a preference during Dr. Brumbaugh's time when he said the girl had no more qualifications and probably not as many as the girl whom they did not select, and this bill will prevent that thing in the future. This bill will give all the girls fair play and take them from the list in rotation from No. 1 on. Personally I have no interest in the bill other than if the girl gets on the list No. 1 that things ought to be fair and the first one selected and if she is on the list farther down she ought to wait her turn.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the report of the Committee of Conference was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE (SPECIAL ORDER).

The SPEAKER. The hour of 10:30 A. M. having arrived, the Chair lays before the House the Special Order fixed for that hour.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1809 (Senate Bill No. 1533), entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine section four of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania authorizing the State to issue bonds to the amount of fifty millions of dollars for the improvement of the highways of the Commonwealth

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KUHN. Mr. Speaker, at this time I would again like to renew my objections to this bill. As I tried to state last evening, this bill was defeated just a short time ago by the State of Pennsylvania, and it was defeated by an overwhelming majority. The State of Pennsylvania was put to a great expense in the advertising of these amendments, and I think at this time it is an imposition to place this matter before the State of Pennsylvania again.

I don't want to be misunderstood that I am against any movement that is for the betterment of the roads of Pennsylvania. I do believe that the people of Pennsylvania should have some consideration when it comes to place a mortgage upon the posterity of this State. It seems to me that there are other means—that other measures can be brought about wherein a revenue sufficiently large can be secured to build and to improve the roads of our State. The great interests, the farming interests—the farming sections of practically every county of our State, if you will but look up the statistics and the vote of a year or two ago, voted in direct opposition to this measure. My own district voted from three to four to one against this measure. I can assure you that the majority of the people of the agricultural sections of the State are against this measure. I am going to ask you, gentlemen, who come from the agricultural sections in various parts of this State to vote "No" on this measure.

Mr. McCLINTOCK. Mr. Speaker, I don't see where there is any reasons for objections to this measure at this time. If this bill is passed now, it comes before this body again in 1917 and then, at that time, if the General Assembly sees fit to pass it again it will be brought before the people in 1918. If the people of this State think it fitting that they want and would require a fifty million dollar loan for the purpose of having good roads in our State at that time, final action can be taken and I think the matter should be left to them. Yet, at the same time, if they do not favor it, they should be in a position to vote upon it at an early time. This cannot come up before the people again before 1918. I do not see why this Assembly should hesitate in passing this measure at this time. We have plenty of time and if it is a good thing the members of the Assembly in 1917 and the people of Pennsylvania in 1918 can be depended upon to decide the question correctly.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution; the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1081 (Senate Bill No. 391), File Folio 3519 on page 3 of to-day's calendar Bills on Final Passage Postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1081 (Senate Bill No. 391), entitled:

An Act providing for the payment of interest on damages caused by the taking injury or destruction of private property for public use

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this bill was defeated by the House for what was then assumed to be a good and sufficient reason, and it seems to me that there is no good reason for reversing that position. Out of courtesy for the gentleman from Delaware, the bill was placed upon the calendar, and I trust that the House will vote this bill down.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, if we pass the bill in its present form it will call for a conference committee upon the part of the Senate and I have been assured by Senator Patton that if we pass the bill over there that they will have a Conference Committee and if the Conference Committee's report is not satisfactory the House can then turn the bill down. I think we ought to pass the bill and I am willing to do so, and I hope the members will vote for it.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like the gentleman who asked to have this bill stricken from the calendar to explain why it should be. In my judgment it is an important bill and should not be stricken from the calendar. Now, if there is no one to give a good reason why it should be stricken from the calendar the House ought to pass it.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, I consider that it is unnecessary to send such kind of a measure here to legislate when it can be legislated in the cities. I cannot understand why animals that are impounded should be used for experimental purposes, due to the fact that the owners of these animals, in all probability may not know that they have been incarcerated.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was in its original form, when the amendments were put in satisfactory to the organization against cruelty to animals, it provided that operations on these animals were only to take place under the supervision of a licensed physician. This bill has been changed. Under the provision of this bill any tyro can operate on a dog in a medical college. If we are going to have a vivisection bill let us have a vivisection bill that does not carry with it cruelty to animals. I believe that the man that votes for this bill votes for a measure that is vicious in its entirety.

Why should a man who is totally unskilled in medicine be permitted to cut a dog or operate upon it. I therefore ask that this bill be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, my friend from York does not understand the bill. He has not explained it to the House as it reads. This bill carefully provides that no medical society or other person can take these dogs until the time has expired, as provided by law, so the owner can claim the dog. After that time has expired the medical society can take the dog for vivisection purposes and to experiment along the lines of science, that has done so much for humanity. The unclaimed dog is an outcast. There is no unnecessary cruelty under the provisions of this bill, because this bill provides, if my friend from York will read it, that the officer of the college is held responsible for any undue cruelty to these animals, and a penalty provided if it is not carefully carried out. Great discoveries have been made by medical science, at least the people have demanded of medical science great discoveries. The people appreciate the great discoveries that have been made by our medical profession, that has done so much and saved so many human lives, and in the absence of the fact that unnecessary cruelty has been indulged in by the members of our colleges, I think it is a great wrong to give this Legislature the impression that they do do it, when they are only striving for the betterment and relief of humanity. It is not fair to make the charge against them. You know that the guinea pig is used more than any other animal for the various purposes of medical science and lives innumerable have been saved by those efforts of our great medical captains and all the world takes its hat off to them.

The medical science has given to the world, after years and years of study, free to humanity, their discoveries, while along the mechanical lines we have acted selfishly. When we make a discovery, we get it patented and we demand from the public, if it is a discovery of great benefit, a very heavy toll for the use of it. But look at what the medical fraternity has done. All of this labor they have done; men have given their lives so as to have experiments on the human animal, and they are martyrs to-day on the pages of history that is not excelled by any hero in war. Now, my friends, this bill is perfectly safe. It does not add to the cruelty; it gives the owner of the animal the opportunity provided by law, and also gives the medical science the benefit of getting these outcasts of society to experiment on, carefully guarded as this bill guards it. The House ought to pass this bill.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that some of this discussion has been aside from the objects of this bill. Vivisection will still go on whether this bill passes or not. The only thing this bill provides is that the medical colleges shall get their dogs by buying them at the public pounds. Now they buy them from any outcast that needs fifty cents or a dollar, and he may have stolen the dog and some one's pet dog may be used for vivisection purposes, when the owner would be glad to redeem it if it had been taken to the pound.

As to the comments of the gentleman from York upon the amendment. I wonder whether he would have a surgeon, or a man who was studying medicine or surgery begin on human beings. If he cannot begin on dogs or animals, when will he begin. And now, Mr. Speaker, I hope the House will bear with me just for a moment, when I bring to your attention what has been accomplished by modern surgery, to a friend of mine, a resident of my own town, who was an old soldier. For twelve years he had been blind. He is now in a hospital in Philadelphia. Accidents sometimes happen, when an eye is injured. A skilful surgeon has used those injured eyes and has restored that poor old man's sight to such an extent that he can recognize his friends and serve himself from a tray in the hospital. He has been in that conidtion for three months.

Now, Mr. Speaker, when these results are accomplished from experiments on animals, it seems to me this House would be taking a step backward if you were to do anything to hamper the experiments on animals. Doctors are, as a rule, merciful men. You trust them in your families, you confide in them, they treat your beloved ones and yet there are people in this State who spend thousands of dollars every year in holding them up to the public as monsters of cruelty so dreadful that it disgusts any one to tell about it. This slandering of the medical profession, this concerted and systematic movement against advancing medicine is one of the most dangerous fads of the present time and I hope this House will not sustain this motion to strike this bill from the calendar, and will pass it in the form in which it is.

Mr. LIPSCHUTZ. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me there is no necessity for this law. I want to state at the outset of this argument that I favor legitimate vivisection. I favor vivisection in the hands of the skilled physician, but I do not favor that class of vivisectionists that was shown to the people of Philadelphia in a csae that was tried in our quarter sessions court some months ago. In that case it was shown to the jury that there was more than cruelty, that men unskilled, who were not physicians, in one of our big institutions, were permitted to do this and they allowed dogs and animals to suffer unnecessarily.

I want to say that vivisection will go on and continue without the necessity of a bill of this character. The physicians here tell you you have vivisection. If they are frank and honest with you, they will tell you it will continue, because vivisection is necessary and proper for the purposes of saving human life. We all know how we are endeared to dogs. We all have our pets; history has told us that the last one to forsake us after our parents in some instancees forsake us, and they sometimes do, after our families have forsaken us, the dog always remains true and faithful. I say to you, gentlemen of the House, there is no necessity for our encumbering our statute books with legislation of this character. We have passed, this session, many bills. Why should we encumber our books with this bill when they can get all the dogs they want. They can go into the hands of legitimate men for legitimate purposes.

The case I referred to was tried, and it is not a theory. In that case the jury disagreed, and why? Because as a rule in criminal cases the experienced practitioner brings reputable men in the community to testify to the good character of the defendant and that throws a doubt on the case. They found him morally guilty. They did not get a clean bill of health. The verdict was not guilty, but "don't do it again." The verdict showed this nefarious practice we alleged, did exist and we produced ample proof to substantiate our theories.

Mr. CROMER. Mr. Speaker, I trust that this bill will fail. It is a direct slap at the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, a notable society which is doing a great work at its own expense.

I hope that within a short time we will have legislative enactment that will absolutely prevent vivisection in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I will not take the time to explain to this House, but I have given this matter a great deal of thought. Every physician will get up on his hind legs and claim that he will save the life of a child, and claim he will save this and that and the other thing. I say, what have they accomplished through vivisection. Physicians of the world stand aghast to-day and cannot do anything whatever for Bright's Disease for cancer, or infantile paralysis, or cerebro-spinal meningitis. They have been cutting into animals for years. It took them four thousand years to discover antiseptic surgery.

Let me tell you, gentlemen, that the great physicians of the day are trying to prevent disease. They are honest, honorable men and are trying to prevent disease. We are preaching sanitation and isolation. There has never been anything accomplished by torturing a dumb brute. I do not think that Divine Providence will permit anything good to come out of that. Listen, the dog is a highly sensitive animal, the natural friend of man, and I claim that any man who will deliberately torture a dumb beast, to no purpose, must have a heart like a fish. Some men seem to have an abnormal propensity to cut into flesh and watch the flood follow the knife when there is nothing to be accomplished, and I think it is practically a crime. This bill does not abolish vivisection, and I hope the bill will be voted down.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I regret very much that I have to take sides against the "limelight of Allegheny county."

Mr. CROMER. Mr. Speaker, the "headlight," not the "limelight."

Mr. STEEDLE. (continuing) Mr. Speaker, I stand corrected and accept the gentleman's correction.

The gentleman from Allegheny would have us believe that research medicine of to-day, which has been accomplished by experiments upon animals of all descriptions has been all for naught.

The gentleman from Allegheny, I believe, in his early life sought at one time to study medicine. Like every other man who possibly takes an initiative in a profession, or like the boy after he has graduated from school, thinks that he knows everything and the other fellow knows nothing. In the gentleman from Allegheny I see pictured before me just such an individual. The question of cancer as he tried to tell this House—

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. CROMER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. CROMER. Mr. Speaker, I claim I am not up for discussion; this bill is up for discussion.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, there is no doubt but that this bill has received some consideration from the hands of some of the men who have been much interested in the defeat of this measure. Now, the bill does not provide for anything other than the poor unfortunate dog who has no home. The gentleman from Philadelphia thinks that the dog is such a great aid for humanity and when forsaken by everybody else that dog still remains your friend. The gentleman from Philadelphia admits that vivisection is all right but he does not like the idea that the dog without a home should be taken to the laboratory and be experimented upon. It is a known fact that when a boy graduates from a school and goes into the practice of medicine in a certain community the people of that community believe that he is properly fitted to go before the public and use such surgical applications as may be necessary for a particular case. Where does this boy get this knowledge? He gets it from the laboratory of experience. This bill in no way legalizes that or destroys it other than it gives him the opportunity to accept the dog that is now become astray. The dogs are not treated cruelly like the gentleman says. It is a fair proposition and it is something we must absolutely have for the study of medicine. Mr. Speaker, I don't think that this bill necessarily should receive the condemnation it has from the various members of this House and I trust that you will give favorable consideration to the measure.

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR.

The SPEAKER. The ayes appear to have it.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker I desire to call up House Bill No. 1752 (Senate Bill No. 506). File Folio 3605 on page 3 of to-day's calendar Bills on Final Passage Postponed.

This is the bill giving the jury the right to decide whether the punishment shall be death or imprisonment. It is known as the "Capital Punishment Bill."

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1752 (Senate Bill No. 506), entitled:

An Act to amend section seventy-five of an act entitled "An Act to consolidate revise and amend the penal laws of this Commonwealth" approved the thirty-first day of March Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty by providing that the penalty for murder of the first degree shall be either death or life imprisonment at the discretion of the jury or of the court as the case may be

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this bill works a radical change in the criminal law of Pennsylvania. Any of the gentlemen of the House who are opposed in principle to capital punishment, should vote for this bill. But those believing in capital punishment as the proper method of administering the law and of preserving human life should not vote for this bill. It is hard enough now to get a jury to convict a murderer in the first degree, and if you leave this law up to them, why nobody will be convicted. If those who are against capital punishment are honest about it. they would propose a bill to abolish it and not take a half way subterfuge such as this. It seems to me that every member ought to consider this bill carefully. It is not for me to say how you should vote; that is a matter for the conscience of each one of you, but if we are to take human life when one has taken human life, this bill ought not to pass.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, my friend from Franklin, I do not think made the bill plain. This bill provides that the jury when they pass in their verdict can decide whether the punishment of death or imprisonment shall be inflicted. It further provides that where the defendant pleads guilty the Court shall have the right to decide. Now the argument made, and at least to my mind, is this, we realize that it is very hard to get a jury that is willing to hang a man unless the evidence is so positive, and it is impossible in so many cases to get this evidence that the criminal, which he ofttimes is, goes scot free. Now, several years ago, I do not remember the number, but some eight, ten or twelve years ago, the State of Illinois decided that the public was better protected by making a flexible law in relation to the capital offenses, homicide. The Illinois Legislature realized that, and I think this Legislature realizes that, we have now in our civilization come to the conclusions that punishments do not deter man from doing what he should not do. The tendency of the times for the last century has been to not inflict capital punishment. There was a time in the history of this State that a hanging was a gala day, that the whole community flocked around to see the poor unfortunate taken out and pay the penalty for his crime. The broader mind, the more deep thinking men and women of our State realized that these conditions aggravated rather than remedied the evil. so that we have done all that is possible to make the execution of a criminal as private as possible. It is generally the public sentiment that the less that is said in the public press about the harrowing circumstances in which a capital punishment is inflicted has been for the betterment of humanity. Now in my judgment, I think the State of Pennsylvania can at least afford to try this proposition for only two years. Now, every one of the members of the House should remember that when they vote for this bill to-day they do not vote to do away with capital punishment, that you do not vote to adopt a practice that cannot be changed hereafter, but you do present to the people an opportunity to find out whether or not this method is not going to give society better protection, and if after two years or four years or six years the indications are that it was a mistake, you need not fear that the Legislature will not immediately repeal this act, and again restore capital punishment for homicide. Now I hope the House will pass this bill. There are a vast number of people of our State that agree with this proposition. I only rise here and lend my efforts and my voice in aid of this proposition because I think it will better protect society. It will mean that a jury where circumstances and evidence warrants a conviction, will convict and that the penalty shall be imprisonment, and to give the prisoner an opportunity to show afterward that he was not guilty. I hope that the House will support the bill.

Mr. WEAVER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I am certain that this bill is a step in the right direction. Personally I am one of the lawyers of the State of Pennsylvania, who do not believe in capital punishment, but I have always bowed in deference to the opinion of the majority of my fellow-men. Last week I spent at my home in the trial of a very noted murder case of the State in the defence. I was surprised to find the number of men who were called on that panel who have become absolutely opposed to capital punishment. I think there were 17 men out of the 62 called in the course of that trial who were challenged by the Commonwealth for cause on that account. Now I feel that the certainty of punishment is a much greater deterrent than the more severe punishment, especially where the severe punishment is not very often visited on the offender. I feel that this is a step in the right direction, and I believe that the State of Pennsylvania ought to take this step. It will not do away with capital punishment, if the majority of men, indeed, if the jury feel that the capital punishment ought to be visited upon the offender, it will be done, and certainly gentlemen you ought to put this into the statute law of the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker it is very true as the gentleman from Franklin has said that this bill makes a very radical change in our criminal statutes, but we have been making radical changes in our criminal statutes ever since we have been a Commonwealth. Mr. Speaker it is not so very many years ago that a man, if he stole a loaf of bread, was hanged; it is not so very long ago that nearly all the felonies were punishable by execution. Mr Speaker in the various states of this Union, particularly those along the eastern coast, they also punish these various felonies by capital punishment, but as the progressive people from those eastern states went west, in their ambition to build up newer commonwealths out there in the golden west, they made new changes in our administration of the criminal law, so that in a great many of the western States they did one of two things, they ether abolished capital punishment entirely, as is the case in the States of Kansas, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin, and in other cases and in other States they have made capital punishment an optional punishment, that is the jury on a not guilty plea would fix the degree of punishment at either execution by hanging or by life imprisonment. That order of things prevails in Alabama, Arizonia, California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Carolina, South Dakota, Texas, Utah and West Virginia and the only States in the Union to-day where capital punishment is the automatic punishment for first degree murder are Arkansas Conecticut Delaware, New Jersey, Nebraska, New York, North Carolina, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Vermont and Wyoming.

Now, Mr. Speaker, the great objection to this bill seems to be that where a man is tried for first degree murder before a jury, the jury will avoid its application of the law if punishment should be fixed at hanging and in order to get away from an unpleasant duty will fix the punishment of first degree verdicts at life imprisonment. Mr. Speaker, I do not agree with this. I have seen cases tried where men have been convicted of first degree murder and I have seen the jury do it smilingly. I have seen the most dramatic moments in murder trials when I, a spectator, felt overawed by the solemnity and by the most intense importance of the case and yet juries, feeling their particular responsibility to the Commonwealth, found the man guilty of murder in the first degree, and throughout the Bar sitting within the Court railing and throughout the audience in that court room you have found the most profound doubt as to whether or not the evidence justified a first degree verdict. Why? Because the automatic consequence of a first degree verdict in Pennsylvania now is hanging; and how positive and how overwhelmingly clear should be the evidence on which the State,—the State that is the protector of the individual,—drags him to the gibbet and takes away his life. Mr. Speaker, I feel absolutely certain that there have been also first degree cases where the juries, trying to avoid in some cases the responsibility of the importance of hanging a man, have found him not guilty. Now, what will work out under this bill in a case where a man commits a particularly heinous crime? Suppose a grown up big brute will murder with a big club a young and innocent child. Is there any one here who would say that the jury in that case would fix the punishment at anything but hanging? Moreover, in other cases where the District Attorney, as is the fact under our law, shall say that the elements of murder in this case are murder in the first degree or nothing,—very often in those cases the jury, acting under the instruction of the court, that the grade of murder presented by the pleadings raises murder of the first degree or not guilty, how often do they find them not guilty when, if they had this law, the jury could say this is a case where the circumstances are not such that we feel we should hang this man, because, although the judges always say your's is not the responsibility of the punishment, no juryman is so idiotic as not to know that when he convicts the man of first degree murder the State hangs him on the State's gibbet. Of course, since 1913 we have electrocution. Whereas, if you had this bill, the jury could say the circumstances here indicate that Jones killed Smith. One man on the jury might say, well, we will bring in a verdict of murder in the first degree and then if they shall ask themselves the question, is it a case for electrocution or is it a case for life imprisonment, I feel that under this bill more men will escape the consequences of their criminal violence than escape the consequences of their crime now. You say that hanging by the neck was a deterrent. I think it was in 1905 or 1906 that in the little police precinct in which I live, and which comprises two of the three wards that Mr. Stern and myself represent, there were nine murders in one year. In London, in the same year there were seven murders. In London which, of course, is in England, punishment for murder in the first degree was hanging. In this Commonwealth the punishment for murder in the first degree at that time was hanging. For some reason or other in London there were seven murders. At that time I think London's population was close to six million. In the police precinct of which I speak the population is, roughly, about one hundred and forty thousand souls. There were more murders in one locality than in another, and yet capital punishment was the deterring law in both places; therefore the argument that capital punishment has kept men from the commission of the most unnatural of crimes is utterly fallacious. Men do not think of the gibbet or the electric chair when they set out on deeds of violence and I say to you that very often,—and this is an argument I want to bring home to you strongly,—very often if you follow the record of a criminal case you will find that the man convicted of murder in the first degree, after he carries his case clear up to the Supreme Court, engages some influential lawyer to take his case before the Board of Pardons on an application for commutation of sentence. Very often he gets it and the man who cannot employ an influential lawyer stays in the county prison without the advantage of the appeal to the Supreme Court and some morning at 1.01 A. M. they bring him out and hang him. Mr. Speaker, I do not think such distinction should exist in Pennsylvania. I think when we speak of the law we should mean the law that is applicable to all men in precisely the same form, and because one man can take his case to the Board of Pardons with influences to save his neck is a crime compared to the man whose guilt, perhaps, was not as bad who cannot afford to get a lawyer to carry his case on. And, Mr. Speaker, all these facts in mitigation of the crime, all these circumstances that reduce the seriousness and heinousness of the crime can be taken into consideration by the jury that tries the case; and who can better judge of whether or not the law in its dignity, the law in its authority, should have either the life itself or life imprisonment than that part of the people that sit in the jury box sworn to administer the law and to give justice to all men? I do not consider this topic in an entirely sentimental way. I think it is a question of political judgment. I think it is a question of social wisdom, and I think this House could do itself no more credit than to pass this most meritorious bill.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, if my recollection serves me correctly I believe it was Lord Coke who said "That wretched is the thraldom where the law is unknown or uncertain," and I say and I believe it will be generally agreed upon that wretched is the thraldom where the punishment is uncertain; and I believe that my friend from Philadelphia will agree that it is not the severity of the punishment which deters man from the commission of a crime but the certainty of that punishment. This bill proposes to leave it to the jury to say whether the man shall suffer life imprisonment or shall suffer death by electrocution. He points to the facts of where a brute in cold blood kills some little girl and, gentlemen, this bill would not alleviate or change the conditions as they now are. Why, any man who does not believe in capital punishment and who sits upon a jury applies that belief to the brute the same as anybody else and under that belief he would not send a brute to capital punishment. Now, gentlemen, as far as I am concerned, I see the humanity in a proposition which does not take a man's life, which pities him, which looks upon him as being the victim of social or environmental conditions; otherwise, no man would commit crime. I do not believe that a man in the full possession of all his mental faculties, who has been raised in the proper families, who has received through his life the proper environments, commits murder; but I believe that a certain and a sure punishment is the only means to protect the law-abiding in this Commonwealth; and I believe that just as soon as you loosen those ties which make the punishment certain and which fix the punishment upon the man who is convicted, under the facts, of murder in the first degree so that he may escape that certain death, so soon will you extend the breadth and the length of the commission of the crime of murder. I do not appeal to you gentlemen on behalf of the man who is guilty and found guilty of murder in the first degree, but I do appeal to you in the name of Pennsylvania's decent law-abiding citizens to protect them and make your punishment certain so that men may be deterred from the commission of the like crime.

Mr. LIPSCHUTZ. Mr. Speaker, I had no desire to get into this discussion but there are a few salient features of this argument I would like to make plain if it is within my power to do so. The old theory of an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth is a relic of barbarism. The theory which we now have in vogue is that society, if possible, try to save the individual. In a great many cases, as Mr. Roney, of Philadelphia, very well said, and he knew whereof he spoke because I know of no one within the hearing of my voice that has had more experience in murder cases than Charlie Roney, of Philadelphia,—when he said that in a great many instances where, under the majesty of the law, it is imperative for a jury to find a verdict of murder in the first degree there may be circumstances not sufficiently extenuating to reduce that degree of murder to second degree but of such a character that electrocution would be a barbarous punishment.

We all of us are looking to the saving of humanity, and I say to you gentlemen of the House that "Heaven's gates are closed to those who come alone; Save that soul and it will save thine own."

Mr. WEAVER. Mr Speaker, I desire to say but a very few words additional on this subject, but I wish to direct my remarks to a remark made by the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Palmer, who would leave some of the members of this House under the impression that a man might qualify to sit on a jury to try a man for murder in the first degree, without believing in capital punishment. Why, gentlemen, the law will stay on that just as it is. How in the world will a man qualify to sit on a jury,if on his voir dire he will say he does not believe in capital punishment. A man must perjure himself to get on that jury in the beginning. This will not change the man's opinions nor will it change the man's conduct one whit.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, it will give the man examined on the voir dire a chance to get on that jury without believing in capital punishment. It will open the door for it. He will feel that not believing in capital punishment he can get on that jury and render a verdict and make a decision of life imprisonment. I say that the loophole is open. I do not believe there is any question about that.

Mr. HENRY I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I do not desire to further continue the debate on the question before us, but it does seem to me that it would not be right for me to sit in my seat feeling as I do upon the question, without letting the House know what I think.

It seems to me the time has come when we may experiment, as we have been doing for some time past,—experimenting along this direction, which apears to me in the line of humanity. After some years of experience, being in the court room and noting how these cases are conducted and knowing how often we are confronted with the uncertainty of circumstantial evidence, knowing that in cases where it is very close, perhaps, at the time of the trial, but a short time, or a year or two, later, facts develop and it is as clear as day what the truth is, some times a conviction may be had during the time of the trial, when after discovered evidence shows that the one convicted is entirely innocent.

It seems to me that circumstantial evidence will now be given a chance and will not destroy a conviction of murder in the first degree, but will be given a chance and will allow the jury to say that "We are not sure, but we believe he is guilty in the first degree and we so report, but recommend life punishment instead of the death penalty."

The doings of the Legislature on all of these affairs, as serious as they are, may not be permanent. They seldom are, and as I have had occasion to say before, upon the floor of this House, if we find that we have made a mistake, somebody can be sent here to correct the errors, the same as they will, probably, to correct many errors that we have made, and I for one feel like voting for this bill, to see what will come of it. Some people say that the death penalty is the deterring thing to keep people from killing others. I am not so sure about that. People who commit murder do not stop, as a rule, to consider what the penalty is going to be. Murder takes place when men are in a state mentally that often times they are not responsible at the time, still, under the law, are held responsible.

This does not say there shall be no capital punishment, but on conviction it will leave it to the jury to say what the punishment shall be, whether capital punishment or life imprisonment. It seems to me the experiment ought to be tried to see what the effect will be in Pennsylvania.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passeed it without amendment.

The SPEAKER. The Chair at this time desires to recognize the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Roney, who has a matter of great importance to bring to your attention.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO CONSTITUTION AMENDMENTS.

Mr. RONEY asked and received unanimous consent to offer a resolution, which was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 19th, 1915.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Whereas, Certain joint resolutions proposing amendments to the Constitution of this Commonwealth have been passed at two consecutive sessions of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, a majority of the members elected to each House having agreed thereto, namely, the sessions of one thousand nine hundred thirteen and one thousand nine hundred fifteen, which proposed amendments respectively read as follows:

"Section 1, Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in accordance with the provisions of the eighteen (XVIII) article thereof

AMENDMENT.

Laws may be passed providing for a system of registering, transferring, insuring of and guaranteeing land titles by the State or by the counties thereof and for settling and determining adverse or other claims to and interests in lands the titles to which are so registered, transferred, insured and guaranteed and for the creation and collection of idemnity funds and for carrying the system and powers hereby provided for into effect by such existing courts as may be designated by the Legislature and by the establishment of such new courts as may be deemed necessary. In matters arising in and under the operation of such system judicial powers with right of appeal may be conferred by the Legislature upon county recorders and upon other officers by it designated. Such laws may provide for continuing the registering, transferring, insuring and guaranteeing such titles after the first or original registration has been perfected by the court and provision may be made for raising the necessary funds for expenses and salaries of officers which shall be paid out of the treasury of the several counties."

"Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met: That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof.

Amend section eight, article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:

'Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property without the assent of the electors therefor at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law, but any city the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of such assessed valuation may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum in the aggregate at any one time upon such valuation except that any debt or debts hereinafter incurred by the city and county of Philadelphia for the construction and development of subways for transit purposes or for the construction of wharves and docks or the reclamation of land to be used in the consrtuction of a system of wharves and docks as public improvements owned or to be owned by said city and county of Philadelphia, and which shall yield to the city and county of Philadelphia current net revenue in excess of the interest on said debt or debts and of the annual installments necessary for the cancellation of said debt or debts may be excluded in ascertaining the power of the city and county of Philadelphia to become otherwise indebted: Provided, That a sinking-fund for their cancellation shall be established and maintained,' so that it shall read as follows:

Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district or other municipality or incorporated district except as herein provided shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law, but any city the debt of which on the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four exceeded seven per centum of such assessed valuation and has not since been reduced to less than such per centum may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum in the aggregate at any one time upon such valuation. The City of Philadelphia upon the condition hereinafter set forth may increase its indebtedness to the extent of three per centum in excess of seven per centum upon such assessed valuation for the specific purpose of providing for all or any of the following purposes—to wit: For the construction and improvement of subways, tunnels, railways, elevated railways and other transit facilities for the construction and improvement of wharves and docks and for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves and docks owned or to be owned by said city. Such increase however shall only be made with the assent of the electors thereof at a public election to be held in such manner as shall be provided by law. In ascertaining the borrowing capacity of said city of Philadelphia at any time where shall be excluded from the calculation a credit where the work resulting from any previous expenditures for any one or more of the specific purposes hereinabove enumerated shall be yielded to said city an annual current net revenue the amount of which credit shall be ascertained by capitalizing the annual net revenue during the year immediately preceding the time of such ascertainment. Such capitalization shall be accomplished by ascertaining the principal amount which would yield such annual current net revenue at the average rate of interest and sinking-fund charges payable upon the indebtedness incurred by said city for such purposes up to the time of such ascertainment. The method of determining such amount so to be excluded or allowed as a credit may be prescribed by the General Assembly.

In incurring indebtedness for any one or more of said purposes of construction, improvement or reclamation the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty years from the date thereof with provision for a sinking fund sufficient to retire said obligation at maturity the payments to such sinking fund to be in equal or graded annual installments. Such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for and may include the amount of the interest and sinking fund charges accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the period of construction and until the expiration of one year after the completion of the work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred and said city shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking fund charges as required by section ten of article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania until the expiration of said period of one year after the completion of such work."

"Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof.

That section one of article eight which reads as follows:

'Section 1. Every male citizen twenty-one years of age possessing the following qualifications shall be entitled to vote at all elections subject however to such laws requiring and regulating the registration of electors as the General Assembly may enact.

'First. He shall have been a citizen of the United States at least one month.

'Second. He shall have resided in the State one year (or having previously been a qualified elector or native born citizen of the State he shall have removed therefrom and returned then six months) immediately preceding the election

'Third. He shall have resided in the election district where he shall offer to vote at least two months immediately preceding the election.

'Fourth. If twenty-two years of age and upwards he shall have paid within two years a State or county tax which shall have been assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before the election," be amended so that the same shall read as follows:

Section 1. Every citizen male or female of twenty-one years of age possessing the following qualifications shall be entitled to vote at all elections subject however to such laws requiring and regulating the registration of electors as the General Assembly may enact.

First. He or she shall have been a citizen of the United States at least one month.

Second. He or she shall have resided in the State one year (or having previously been a qualified elector or native-born citizen of the State he or she shall have removed therefrom and return then six months) immediately preceding the election.

Third. He or she shall have resided in the election district where he or she shall offer to vote at least two months immediately preceding the election.

Fourth. If twenty-two years of age and upwards he or she shall have paid within two years a State or county tax which shall have been assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before the election.

Fifth. Whenever the words "he" "his" "him" and "himself" occur in any section of Article VIII of this Constitution the same shall be construed as if written respectively "he or she" "his or her" "him or her" and "himself or herself."

Whereas, It is provided in article eighteen of the Constitution of this Commonwealth that any amendment so agreed upon shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State, in such manner and at such time, at least three months after being so agreed to by the two Houses, as the General Assembly shall prescribe, such submission to be in such manner and form that the people may vote for or against such amendments; therefore,

Be it resolved (if the Senate concur), That for the purpose of ascertaining the sense of the people of this Commonwealth in regard to the adoption or rejection of certain proposed amendments to the Constitution of this Commonwealth; namely: to section eight of article nine regulating the amount of indebtedness of counties, cities, boroughs, townships, school districts, other municipalities and incorporated districts; and an amendment permitting laws to be passed providing for a system of registering, transferring, insuring of and guaranteeing land titles by the State or by the counties thereof; and an amendment to section eight, article nine regulating the debt, indebtedness and borrowing capacity of counties, cities, boroughs, townships, school districts, other municipalities and incorporated districts; and an amendment to section one, article eight allowing females of twenty-one years of age and upwards possessing certain qualifications to vote; the said amendments shall be submitted to the vote of the people of this Commonwealth at the election to be held on the second day of November, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and fifteen for the purpose of deciding upon the approval and ratification or the rejection of said amendments. Said election shall be opened, held, and closed upon said election day, at the places and within the hours at and within which the said election is directed to be opened, held, and closed, and in accordance with the provisions of the laws of Pennsylvania governing elections and amendments thereto. Such amendments shall be printed upon the ballots in the form and manner prescribed by the election laws of Pennsylvania, and shall in all respects conform to the requirements of such laws.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, due to an unfortunate omission of some necessary constitutional phrases in the Concurrent Resolution passed by this House proposing amendments to the Constitution, a resolution has been drafted to cover these defects.

The SPEAKER. A decision of the Supreme Court makes a roll call necessary on this resolution in order that the same may be properly certified to the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

The question is on the adoption of the resolution.

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the resolution is agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. KITTS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1719, Senate Bill No. 1002, entitled:

An Act requiring the county commissioners to provide at the expense of the county a telephone typewriter and stenographer for the use of the county superintendent of schools was defeated on final passage be reconsidered at this time.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, this bill was amended on third reading by striking out the word "shall" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "may" and when the County Superintendent wishes he can do as he feels necessary. I surmise that a certain number of the members of the House did not understand that that amendment had been made.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO TEACHERS RETIREMENT FUND COMMISSION.

Mr. HESS asked and obtained unanimous consent to present a resolution at this time which was read, considered and agreed to as follows:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

In the House of Representatives, May 19, 1915.

Whereas, Measures have been introduced at the present session of the General Assembly proposing pensions for superannuated teachers in the public schools; and,

Whereas These measures in the form in which they were presented were either crudely prepared or unconstitutional; and,

Whereas, It is highly proper that some adequate measure be prepared and enacted giving to our teachers protection after their earning capacity has been impaired or destroyed; therefore,

Be it resolved (if the Senate concur), That a Commission to be known as the Teachers' Retirement Fund Commission is hereby authorized. It shall consist of two members of the House appointed by the Speaker; two members of the Senate appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate and one citizen, appointed by the Governor, who shall be a person experienced in educational matters. It shall be the duty of this Commission to investigate the question of retirement fund for teachers in the public schools and to prepare such measures as the Commission will deem necessary towards carrying out in an adequate manner the results of the investigation hereby authorized. The members of the Commission shall receive no compensation. Any expenditures they may make shall not exceed in the aggregate the sum of five thousand dollars.

The Commission shall organize immediately after the appointment of the members thereof and shall forthwith set about the performance of the duties herein imposed. Upon the completion of its labors, the Commission shall reduce its findings to writing and shall report thereon to the next session of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania not later than the first day of February, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen. The report of the Commission shall contain such recommendations and suggestions as the Commission may deem proper, together with drafts of any proposed legislation.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. GEISER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page 4, of to-day's calendar, Bills on Final Passage Postponed, House Bill No. 1605, Senate Bill No. 152.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1605 (Senate Bill No. 152), entitled:

An Act providing for the establishment erection equipment and management of a Pennsylvania home for boys and for the commitment thereto of delinquent boys between the ages of six and eighteen years and making an appropriation

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information. Is this Senate Bill No. 152, which is now before the House for consideration.

The SPEAKER. It is.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, this bill was before the House last night on third reading and there was considerable objection to it. As a result of that objection the bill was placed upon the postponed calendar. In order that the House might intelligently understand the provisions of the bill I desire to call its attention specifically to some of the sections.

The purpose of this bill is to acquire in the County of York a particular piece of property for the purpose of erecting an Industrial Home for boys and girls. In the discussion of this bill last night it was shown to the House that the assessed valuation of the property sought to be purchased was $11,000.00. The bill appropriates for this purchase $75,000.00. It was also admitted that the selection of this site for the purposes specified in the bill was not approved by the State Board of Public Charities. Now, Mr. Speaker, to my mind to enact this bill into a law would be to establish a vicious precedent in the legislative halls of this Commonwealth. If you will turn to section three of the bill, it provides:

The commission shall acquire in the name of the Commonwealth by purchase or condemnation as a site for the said home a tract of land in Manchester and East Manchester townships York county on the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad from Harrisburg to Washington and located about four miles northward from York comprising approximately one hundred and seventy acres known as "Green acres" Provided That the price of said land if acquired by purchase from the owner shall not exceed the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) If the said land shall be acquired by purchase from the owner the title shall be approved by the Attorney General.

Now, Mr. Speaker, the only provision in this bill to place the matter in the hands of a board of viewers to fix a price, is in view of the impossibility of the Commission created by this bill to agree upon a price with the purchaser, but if the Commission does agree upon the price that price may go to the extent of seventy-five thousand dollars for the purchase notwithstanding the assessed value of the property. This bill is vicious upon that ground, as well upon the ground of bearing the earmarking in particularly designating a spot within the confines of this Commonwealth for this purpose. I see no reason, for one, why an act should pass this legislature for the purpose of selecting a piece of particular property for this particular purpose, when insofar as this Legislature is concerned it has no knowledge of an investigation of other possible sites or any site within the bounds of this Commonwealth which might be available for the purposes specified in the bill. To my mind, while I do not intend to talk derogatorily about the purposes of the bill and the selection of a site and the erection of an industrial home for boys and girls, yet sir, I think that the only proper way in which a matter of this kind can be brought before any legislative body is for the appointment of a commission to look throughout this State for available sites having in mind no section and not one particular section, and then report to the Legislature at some subsequent session what their findings are as to which is the most available property for the purposes specified. To pass this bill would be to place upon our statute books a vicious precedent which I hope this House will not sanction by its vote, and I ask the House to stand with me in voting against this measure.

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, I listened with a great deal of interest to the gentleman from Philadelphia, and especially when he says that the acquiring of a particular site is vicious legislation. It seems to me that it is not nearly as vicious as to appoint a commission and give them the right to spend $75,000.00 and have them select a site. There is opportunity for vicious legislation, in giving away the money of the State through a commission, you do not know what they will do for the State, you do not know what influences will help them to select a site somewhere in the State. Here a site is selected and that matter is already out of the way. It is not only a question as to the proper price that shall be paid for it. There is no reason why York should not have an institution like this. One of the largest counties in the State of Pennsylvania, and as far as I know, not a single State institution within its confines. Therefore I think if you will look on the other side of this question, a good feature of this bill is that the land is selected, it is designated, it tells you where it is and it tells you how much and no more may be expended for the land. I, for one, believe, that this is a good feature of the bill, notwithstanding the statement of my distinguished friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Wilson, and I feel that I want to vote for the bill for that reason.

Mr. C. A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Wilson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Wilson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. C. A. SHAFFER Mr Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman when he made the statement, if I understood him correctly that this land could be purchased for the sum of $11,000.00?

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I did not make any such statement, but what I did say was that when this bill was under discussion in the House last night, the gentleman from York, a member of the House, was interrogated as to the assessed value of this particular property and he admitted that it was assessed at $11,000.00.

Mr. C. A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, is it not true that in section three it specifies that the commission if appointed, shall buy this land at a price not to exceed $75,000.00, and if they can buy this land for $11,000.00 the entire amount which is specified here would not need to be expended. I hope we can trust this commission in the purchase of this property, if it is a good thing for the boys and girls that we should have this for the State. This location in York county where it is situated, I know the location well, is a most admirable one, and a place that I think would meet with the approval of any one who would visit said place. And I, for one, do believe that the House should pass this bill.

The SPEAKER (Charles A. Ambler) in the Chair.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it a commission was appointed to investigate the advisability of selecting a site for a home for women. That commission, I believe, was divided as between two sites, one in Williamsport and this particular site in York county. The Williamsport site was selected for a women's institution, and I believe one is being erected there now or has been erectd. This site in York county is particularly adapted for the purposes set forth in this bill.

There is now going on in the City of Baltimore, a National Charity convention. That convention is composed of delegates representing various charitable associations from every State in the Union and, Mr. Speaker, the very question that this bill presents was one of the questions that was decided at that convention yesterday and every delegate from every State in the Union got up on their feet and decided with acclamation that it was the view of that convention that it was necessary to have an industrial home for boys. Now, having that one question out of the road, the next question is as to the value of this site in York county, and let me say as to this that this bill does not compel the commissioners to pay the sum of $75,000.00 for the purchase of this site. This bill provides that the State of Pennsylvania shall have the right of eminent domain and that gives the State the right to go into court if there is any argument or dispute about the price—it can be paid for at what the Court believes is right or what the jury assesses in this case as is done in other cases and under other circumstances. I think it is a good bill and it ought to be passed.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. I would like to inquire from the gentleman from Philadelphia where he gets his information that a commission has already been appointed to deal with this question?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I believe Mr. Spangler has told me that.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire from the gentlemen from Philadelphia whether he has read this bill?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire from the gentleman from Philadelphia, whether or not this bill does not create a commission?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I believe that it gives the commission the right—

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker I insist upon an answer to my question as to whether or not this particular bill does not create a commission.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, yes sir, it does.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire from the gentleman from Philadelphia how many institutions of a similar kind there are now in Pennsylvania?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker I cannot answer that question.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker I shall answer it for him. Two. Glen Mills and Morganza.

I should like to inquire from the Gentleman as to whether he knows the conditions of the school at Glen's Mills as to the number of children that are housed there and whether or not that institution is filled.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I do not know the number of children there are at Glen Mills, but I want to say from all the information I have that that institution is a disgrace to the State; that the children that go to that institution instead of being corrected learn many vicious lessons that they never knew before.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, Now I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia to answer my question.

Mr. STERN. Mr Speaker, I already stated I did not know how many boys and girls there are at Glen Mills.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman from Philadelphia to inform the House whether or not Glens Mills is filled or whether it has any further accommodations for children.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I do not know.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, it is not nearly filled.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I am still standing.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire from the gentleman from Philadelphia, as to whether he knows what the condition of the institution at Morganza is with reference to any facilities for taking in additional children.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I have never heard of Morganza.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker I think the gentleman has never heard of this bill

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. W. H. Wilson permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, with pleasure.

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Philadelphia know what character of children are to be provided for in this institution?

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I understand that it is to provide for delinquent children.

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether he has read this bill.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I have, with a great deal of care

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether he knows that this bill is to provide for a different kind of delinquent children than those who are put to Morganza and Glenn Mills.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. If the gentleman from Dauphin will advise me of that particular provision in the bill perhaps I will agree with him.

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman will find it on page four.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman where on page four, what line.

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, possibly I may have the wrong page.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I suppose he has. Now, Mr. Speaker, I think that the most perfect argument that has been made in favor of the defeat of this measure has been made by the gentleman from Dauphin. The gentleman from Dauphin critises the suggestion of the gentleman from Philadelphia with regard to the appointment of the Commission and said that the appointment of a Commission to select a site would open that Commission to influences which might become baleful. I would like to know, Mr. Speaker, where in this bill is there any provision to keep away from the Commission created in this bill the influences which the gentleman from Dauphin has referred to? None at all. Here is a Commission created and the moment it is created its hands are tied. It says that they shall select this particular site. It further says that if they can agree with the seller as to the purchase price, not to exceed seventy-five thousand dollars, then they shall buy this particular property; and the only time that the question is raised before a board of viewers to fix the value is when they would not agree. Now, therefore, Mr. Speaker, if the Commission which the gentleman from Philadelphia has suggested is subject to outside influences it is just as plain as the noses on our faces that the Commission created by this act, with its hands tied and given the power to purchase that site, assessed at eleven thousand dollars, up to the extent of seventy-five thousand dollars will be subject to the same influences and there will be no disagreements between the seller and the Commission.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Nissley.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Nissley, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, certainly.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, for my own information and the information of the other members of the House, I desire to have the gentleman from Dauphin explain what a delinquent child is.

Mr. NISSLEY. Now, Mr. Speaker, as I understand, this act provides that the court shall decide that question.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I wish to further interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr Speaker, I would like to ask, to the knowledge of the gentleman from Dauphin, how many classes have the different courts of this State made for delinquent children.

Mr. NISSLEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to say that they have no classes. They will send them to the institutions where the evidence in each case will justify there being sent.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I wish to state to the members of this House that the gentleman has gotten out of the predicament in which he placed himself very beautifully, and when you speak of the delinquents at Morganza or Glenn Mills or any other institution of this State, they are the same. I believe it is only fair to the members of this House that they should not be blinded to that fact that there is not an institution being created here for a different class of children.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentlemen from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STERN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to know if he was ever in the Glenn Mill schools,—as a visitor.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, under the advice of council I decline to answer.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I so not want the House to get a wrong impression and I am just as well satisfied that my friend from Philadelphia, did not intend to give the House the wrong impression but somebody has no doubt given him a wrong impression and he has passed it along to the House. I want to state that I live within four miles of that institution and that I have been in and through it and have been acquainted with its management for about twenty-five years. I want to say that the institution is managed by citizens of the very highest class in Pennsylvania. They not only take care of that institution well but they contribute out of their own pockets. It is that class of men who have the time to give to look after that institution. There is not a week passes by that there is not one of the Board of Trustees there. The different memberships of the Board of Trustees, from time to time, have given to that institution two or three hundred thousand dollars. I want to say that the superintendent of that institution has been a man of such a high class—

Mr. HUBLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. HUBLER. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the gentleman of Delaware is not confining himself to the question now before the House.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The matter before the House for discussion is not the Glenn Mills school.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I simply want to state that the question as raised was one of whether these two schools were properly conducted. It is fair to know whether there are additional institutions necessary for the State along this same line before making any provisions for them. So far as Glenn Mills is concerned I can say that the Superintendent has told me that the school is not full and that they can care for more inmates without the addition of any new institution. I have heard through responsible parties that similar conditions exist as to Morganza; and we know that these two institutions have their own individual overhead charges and they are now able to take care of more inmates. Now, why create another institution. I will even brush aside the question of whether the bill is not proper that provides that a certain place should be bought, but certainly the House is not going to create an additional institution when the two institutions dealing with that class of inmates is not full. It would be simply folly and another waste of the State's revenues.

Mr. GEISER. Mr. Speaker, while I am not a member of the Appropriation Committee of this House I did constitute myself an appropriation committee of one a week ago and I went down to York county purely on my own account so as to come back here and try to give the House some information. I was here for the week end and I went down to York, as stated, and I found this property to be an admirable one. Of course, I am going on the assumption that a home for delinquent boys is necessary. The property, as you all know, consists of one hundred and seventy acres of land. What land is worth in York county I do not know, but I do know this, that the buildings on the place could not be duplicated for at least thirty thousand dollars and I know there is a large deposit of sand stone there and I know that there is a large artificial lake there and I believe that with ordinary winter conditions about two thousand dollars worth of ice could be harvested from it each year. The spot is ideal for the purpose intended and the people back of the bill are high class, admirable gentlemen as I met a number of them. I think that the bill is a meritorious one and I hope the House will pass it.

Mr. CHARLES SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to correct an impression that seems to have gotten before the House with respect to this property as to its assessed valuation being eleven thousand dollars. I got some information on this matter and I have been informed that the assessed valuation does not represent more than thirty-three and one-third to fifty per cent. of the real value and that it cannot be purchased for any such price as the sum of eleven thousand dollars. I think this is a very very meritorious measure and it ought to pass.

Mr. LIPSCHUTZ. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by a number of members.

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that all discussion is over and if the gentlemen will withdraw his motion the Chair will order the roll called.

Mr. LIPSCHUTZ. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my motion.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1659 (Senate Bill No. 126), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Board of Commissioners of Navigation for the River Delaware and its navigable tributaries was dropped from the calendar on May 18th be reconsidered.

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question.

Will the House agree to the motion.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, last night the House was in a first degree humor and killed quite a number of bills. And amongst the bills executed was this bill making an appropriation to the Board of Commissioners of Navigation for the river Delaware. Mr. Speaker, if this bill is not resurrected and passed, in Philadelphia, we will have no appropriation for the Maritime Exchange and no appropriation for the Board Statisticians, and no appropria tion for the Harbor Board or Commissioners of Navigation, so the Port of Philadelphia for the next two years will be a joke. Therefore, I ask the members of this House to reconsider their action on this bill and vote to place it back on the calendar.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1800 (Senate No. 1525), entitled:

BILL STRICKEN FROM CALENDAR.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, this bill is one that affects Berks county only. It is to be the first step in removing the jail from its present position—that is of taking it out of the city limits. The majority of the people of Berks county are decidedly opposed to this removal and I ask you gentlemen of the House to give voice to the sentiment of at least eighty per cent. of the people of Berks county who are opposed to this measure. I move that this bill be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Where any office not in court of record shall for any cause become vacant after the time for making nominations for such office shall have elapsed or when a writ for a special election to supply a vacancy shall direct such election to be held at a date which would prevent the making of nominations in time to comply with section five of this act nomination for the office to be filled may still be made in accordance with sections two and three of this act but in other respects the provisions of section twelve of this act shall apply to such nominations" be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 That section eleven of the said act which reads as follows

"Section 11 In case of the death or withdrawal of any candidate nominated as herein provided the party convention primary meeting caucus or board or the citizens who nominated such candidate may nominate a substitute in his place by filing in the proper office at any time before the day of election a nomination certificate or paper which shall conform to all the requirements of this act in regard to original certificates or papers Provided that if the said convention or citizens shall have authorized any committee or if any executive committee of any political party be authorized by the rules of said party to make nominations in the event of the death or withdrawal of candidates the said convention shall not be required to reconvene nor the said citizens to sign a new nomination paper but the said committee shall have power to file the requisite nomination certificates or paper which shall recite the facts of the appointment and powers of the said committee (naming all its members) of the death or withdrawal of the candidate and of the action of the committee thereon and the truth of these facts shall be verified by the affidavit annexed to the certificate or paper of two members of the committee and also of at least two of the officers of the convention who made affidavit in support of the original certificate or two of the citizens who made affidavit to the original paper And Provided also That in case of a substituted nomination paper not filed by a committee but signed by citizens it shall only be necessary that two-thirds of the signers of the said paper shall have been signers of the original paper" be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 3 All Acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith art hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this bill strikes at the liberty of the people of the Commonwealth and is an interference with their prerogatives. It does seem to me that it is unreasonable to any person whom the county does nominate for office in May and to get them off the ticket, if he wants to get off, not to be able to do so before November. Nothing will take his name off the ticket except death. That is an interference with a man's personal liberty. It is an interference with the constitutional rights of the people. I move that the bill be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. C. A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The ayes appear to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, 54 gentlemen voting in the affirmative and 60 in the negative.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. THEODORE CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Walter and Mr. Glenn and were as follows:

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1675 (Senate No. 858), entitled:

An Act to amend sections three eight and sixteen of an act entitled "An Act to regulate nominations and elections for all elective offices of cities of the second class and all offices of judge of a court of record providing for non-partisan nominations and elections for said offices abolishing certain existing methods of nomination in such cases and the use of party or political names or appellations at elections with respect to said offices imposing certain duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth county commissioners and election officers and clerks and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof and the punishment of certain offenses" approved the twenty-fourth day of July Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GEARY. Mr. Speaker, this bill applies to cities of the second class only and regulates the non-partisan act to the extent that where two or more men of the same name or surname have their names printed on the ballot one or both of them can have their occupation noted opposite his name. It only applies to Pittsburgh and Scranton, and they are in favor of this measure, and we ask you to vote favorably on this measure.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1661 (Senate No. 941), entitled:

An Act to amend an act entitled "An Act to regulate nominations and elections for all elective offices of cities of the second class and all offices of judge of a court of record providing for non-partisan nominations and elections for said offices abolishing certain existing methods of nomination in such cases and the use of party or political names or appellations at elections with respect to said offices imposing certain duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth county commissioners and election officers and clerks and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof and the punishment of certain offenses" approved the twenty-fourth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen so as to make the proviso to section thirteen of said act operative where two or more candidates for the office of judge of any court of record consisting of several judges are to be elected at one election

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I have no interest in this bill but I might explain for the benefit of the members of the House that this act does not repeal the non-partisan act. It simply provides for an amendment to the non-partisan act and provides that where two or more judges are to be elected, the candidates receiving fifty-one per cent. or more of the votes at the primaries shall be the only candidates whose names shall be certified on the ballot. It merely extends the provision which is now made in the non-partisan act where there is one judge to be elected so that it applies to where there is more than one judge to be elected at the same election.

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR.

The SPEAKER. We have one bill on first reading, House Bill No. 1753, Senate Bill No. 698, entitled:

An Act authorizing a charge not exceeding five dollars in addition to six per centum per annum to cover expenses incurred in making loans on page 12 of to-day's calendar. There is no chance for this bill to pass at this session and a motion to drop it from the calendar will be in order.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1753, Senate Bill No. 698, be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. McCURDY offered the following motion which was twice read and considered.

Moved by Mr. McCurdy, seconded by Mr. Dell, that the vote by which House Bill No. 1672, Senate Bill No. 480, entitled:

An Act to prevent fraud and deceit in the sale of fruits vegetables seeds plants scions and trees on page 5 of to-day's calendar, was dropped from the calendar be reconsidered.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McCURDY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill could not be found on the files this morning on account of the number being wrong and I find no objections to the bill after finding it and reading it and therefore I make this motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The question recurs,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this bill is of some importance to the fruit growing sections of this State. While I doubt very much whether any person could be convicted under its penal provisions yet it will make it difficult for persons who commit fraud in the sale of apples or peaches for planting different from the labels to recover in a civil action and I believe it would help the fruit industry of this State to pass this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1732 (Senate Bill No. 921), File Folio 3255, entitled:

An Act relating to dealers in poultry for the market requiring the giving of information by such dealers concerning where and from whom such poultry was purchased or received and the kinds and amount of the same to policemen detectives or constables and providing penalties for violation of its provisions was dropped from the calendar be reconsidered.

Mr. BERNTHEISEL. Mr. Speaker I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, this is Senate Bill No. 921 introduced by Senator Homsher from Lancaster. I am sure that when it was dropped from the calendar the members of the House did not pay any attention to it. I fail to see any reason why any member of this House could possibly have voted in favor of dropping this bill from the calendar. Kindly pay attention to the provisions of the bill. The provisions of the bill are just what is set forth in the title "relating to dealers in poultry for the market requiring the giving of information by such dealers concerning where and from whom such poultry was purchased or received, and the kinds and amounts of the same to policemen, detectives or constables and providing penalties for the violation of its provisions." This is simply a protection and gives the officers of the law the authority to question men who are doing suspicious business as to where they receive or where they buy or where they purchased the poultry they bring to the market. It simply enables the officers of the law to detect men who sell goods in the market before they get away with the goods and the money.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker lawyers get into such a habit of telling only one side of the story and not telling all of that, that I am not surprised that my friend from Lancaster has made that mistake. Why did he not tell the House that if any person cannot give that information he shall be subject to an imprisonment not exceeding ninety days. Now let me tell you what happens in practice. There is just a moiety of good in this bill but a mountain of annoyance and harm. The average market-man that goes into the market of our various cities some time carries poultry from a dozen or fifteen or twenty of his neighbors. He will have to have a record of every pair of chickens that is brought to him. When they were bought and where they came from, and it is absolute folly to require that of your market man. Millions of poultry in our large cities come in there every day. Those dealers could no more answer that question than they could fly. Your large dealers get their poultry from North Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia and Virginia. Now how can they answer those questions? As I say, this is a mountain of harm and a moiety of good. I think this is useless legislation and of no use at all.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, of course he cannot give an answer but any man in this House can tell me why. An honest dealer can give an answer. It is only the man who will not give an answer because he does not want to incriminate himself that we want to catch and that is the purpose of this bill to catch the fellow who has either stolen the stuff or received stolen goods. I hope you will put the bill back on the calendar it is a good bill.

Mr. Speaker. It seems to me that the criticism of the gentleman from Delaware is not well founded. The act says, "so far as may be in the knowledge of such person, firm or corporation." Now, if they do not know they cannot be punished. We have had lots of fences up in our country who made a lot of money receiving stolen poultry. They retired from business and now they are presumably respectable citizens. Everybody knew it but nobody could prove it, and that is the kind of fellow this bill is after. I think it ought to be put on the calendar.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the "noes" appeared to have it.

Whereupon a division was called for, fifty-two voting in the affirmative and seventy-three in the negative and the question was determined in the negative and the motion not agreed to.

Brosius,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. ARTHUR. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1444, Senate Bill No. 539, File Folio 4225, on page 4 of today's calendar, Bills on Final Passage Postponed.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1444 (Senate Bill No. 539), entitled:

An Act repealing section three of an act entitled "An Act to regulate the nomination and election of public officers requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and punishing certain offences in regard to such elections" approved the tenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three as amended by an act approved the ninth day of July one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven and repealing all legislation inconsistent herewith

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I should like to have the gentleman who called up this bill explain its provisions.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the purposes of this bill are to repeal the present act under which nominations are made by petition. I would state for the information of the House that provision for nomination by petition has been made in Senate Bill No. 631 that has passed the House which in section 2 provides:

Section 2 Such petition shall be signed where it is intended to give the electors the right to nominate and elect candidates for public offices or party offices to be voted for by the electors of the State-at-large by such number of electors as is equal to at least four per centum of the largest vote for any officer elected in the State-at-large at the last preceding election at which such a State officer was voted for and of the said four per centum of signers there shall be at least two hundred from each of thirty counties of the State

Where such petition is intended to give the electors the right to nominate and elect candidates for public offices or for party offices in any electoral district or division less than the State-at-large such petition shall be signed by such number of qualified electors as will equal at least five per centum of the largest vote cast for any officer elected at the last preceding general election in said electoral district or division in which the said body of electors desire to nominate or elect candidates so that provisions for the nomination by petition is provided for in Bill 631, which passed the Senate and the House and is now in the hands of the Governor. In order to make this law effective, it is necessary to pass bill No. 539, which would repeal the present law.

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McNICHOL. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I do not understand what these provisions contain that are to be repealed. I would like to know what the act approved the tenth day of June, 1893, as amended and approved the ninth day of July, contains. What did this act contain?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, this act contains the provisions under which nominations are made now by petition. If you have ever experienced a nomination by petition, other than by an election at the primary, then you know exactly what it provides.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1823 (Senate No. 1563), entitled:

An Act fixing the salaries of county controllers in all counties having a population of one hundred thousand and not exceeding three hundred and fifty thousand

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BARNETT. Mr. Speaker, this is the bill that was turned down some two or three weeks ago, and if not it is a bill very similar to the one that was then turned down. There was objection to that bill at the time and I stated the objection. It will increase salaries unnecessary. It has been charged very recently and repeatedly that the business of this Legislature, like preceding ones has been to provide a countless procession of new jobs and increase of salaries and this is another one of the same kind. The counties that will be affected by this bill don't want it and don't need it and they ask that the other counties who do not wish it vote against the adoption of this law. It will affect your county disadvantageously and it will affect some counties worse than others. It will provide a salary of a controller which will exceed the salaries of nearly all of the other county officers. I ask that you vote it down.

Mr. Speaker, I am against this bill and I will ask the House to vote it down.

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. CROMER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1616 (Senate No. 846), entitled:

An Act relating to trust funds and property surety bonds given to secure the same and payment of premiums thereon and the discharge of sureties thereunder

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this bill is of interest to lawyers because it affects every trustee for which a bond company was to become surety. It enables a bond company to become sureties and immediately start proceedings to secure their discharge. The present remedy at law is entirely adequate and this bill would impose unnecessarily a useless expense on all assets. I move that this bill be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1825 (Senate No. 1518), entitled:

An Act to amend section four of article four and sections seventeen, twenty-nine, thirty, thirty-two, thirty-three, thirty-five, thirty-six and thirty-nine of article six, of an act known as "The Public Service Company Law", approved the 26th day of July, A. D. 1913 (P. L. 1374), so as to authorize the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to appoint examiners to take testimony and evidence in any locality in the Commonwealth designated by the Commission, and to provide for the taking of appeals from the findings, determinations or orders of the Commission to the Superior Court instead of the court of common pleas of Dauphin County, vesting in the Superior Court the jurisdiction to hear and determine said appeals which is now vested in said court of common pleas of Dauphin County, the same to be subject to an appeal to the Supreme Court, and so as to make the other necessary changes due to the said substitution of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania for the court of common pleas of Dauphin County as the court by which appeals from the findings, determinations and orders of the commission shall be determined.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

SENATE BILL NO. 1518 MADE A SPECIAL ORDER.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be made a special order for 10.30 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1823 (Senate Bill No. 1563), entitled:

An Act fixing the salaries of county controllers in all counties having a population of one hundred thousand and not exceeding three hundred and fifty thousand

PRESENTATION OF TESTIMONIAL TO EX-LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR, JOHN M. REYNOLDS.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, Lieutenant-Governor Reynolds, one of the compensations of long service and one of the things that makes up for all the burdens and cares and scars which veterans in political and public life have is the fact that once in a while there are pleasant things which come to us, and which are really enjoyed and cherished. It gives me great pleasure, on behalf of the Senate of Pennsylvania, in recognition of your courtesy to these members, of your faithful services always to the Commonwealth as Lieutenant-Governor, to present to you this beautiful set of silver, with the compliments of your associates in the Senate of Pennsylvania. We hope that you will always cherish this, and know that you will, and take it back to your home, on the hills of the Alleghenies and keep it as one of the highest possessions of your life.
